5 June 2020

Important notice to unitholders

Change of address and update to PDSs

As of Monday 8 June 2020, the Vanguard Australia Head Office will be relocating to:

Level 13
130 Lonsdale Street
Melbourne VIC 3000
Australia

Although our office will physically be at a different address, this will not change any of your normal, day-to-day contact with us – whether contacting a member of the Client Services team via phone or email, corresponding through our PO Box address - or any other communication. The details for all your regular communication with our Crew remain the same.

When we planned the move to our new address, the current public health situation was not known so we are proceeding with this move with the health and safety of our Crew in mind. With many of our Crew working-from-home and continuing to do so for the foreseeable future, access to our office is restricted and not currently open to the public.

Our official change of address will be updated on all Product Disclosure Statements (PDSs) together with some other changes. These documents will be reissued in the coming weeks. To ensure you are investing with the most up-to-date information, please access the latest PDSs by visiting our website.

If you have any questions, please contact Vanguard Client Services
